Commit your work to the Lord & it will succeed - Proverbs 16:3

Hi Friends & Neighbors,

The other day Lisa said this had better be my best newsletter ever. No pressure. Actually, that was a lot of pressure. I ended up with writer's block. I was struggling to find the words to express everything that we as a company and we as a community have been going through. Then I realized that maybe it's not my words that could best express all of that, it's yours. So I would like to share just a few of the MANY awesome words, conversations, notes, and messages we have gotten from all of you during this time.

One of our senior customers told me, "I am so glad to see you guys back to work. I could not stay in my home if I didn't have your help. You guys are my savior." Then she stopped and seemed to think about what she had just said. She smiled big and said, "with a small 's' of course."

Another customer told us, while we were still closed, "I want to pay for my service up front if that will help you guys. I will gladly wait for you to re-open." That was a theme. "We would rather wait for you." "We respect and support you in trying to honor God by honoring government officials." One dear lady in Idaho, realizing the man treating her property (me) was the owner, the guy whose picture is on the newsletter, said, "you look much younger than your picture." I think I might want to do a little Photoshop.

Lisa has received hundreds of emails from you all. We did our best to answer the many questions and concerns about your properties and how all of this would work, but what struck us over and over again was your concern for us. While we are a business, it seems that has been transcended by kindness, community, support, and prayers.

Thank you. Maybe that's why I had writers block. I just couldn't seem to do justice to such an outpouring of support.

So many of you have reflected the goodness of God back our way. Your words and actions were like "the City on a Hill" (Matt. 5:14). You have inspired and encouraged us. We intend to continue to respond as you have. Jesus once said "...let your light shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your Father in heaven" (Matt. 5:16). Thanks for the light!

Blessings,
Mike
