Dear Friends,

Ready or not, here I come. If you played hide and seek as a kid, I'm sure you remember that one. I loved the anticipation as the "seeker" finished their count and said these words...so exciting. Today as grownups, that feeling has another name. Anxiety or stress are the designations we give to those feelings. What we loved as children, the sense of the unknown outcome and the adrenaline of getting to base in a good game of hide and seek, becomes something that many of us go to great lengths to avoid. Our tools to accomplish this are all too familiar: screen time, medicine- legal and not legal, other addictions, control, outrage, and judgment of others are just a few.

This is still a very New Year. Could we have a different outcome? Could you and I get some of the child-like wonder back to replace the anxiousness our culture dishes out? Heck ya we can! For the last couple of years I have dusted off the old serenity prayer and prayed it when I am stressed, anxious, and feel I am in over my head. Three key words in it are "Serenity, Courage, and Wisdom." The absolute key of course is God. If you don't know it, look up the serenity prayer. Another thing is I ask God to help me ALL the time. Nothing is too small, and because of that fact, nothing is too large. Jesus came to give us life and peace with God. I hope in this still-young year you can begin to experience child-like faith. "Our Father, ready or not, here I come." We are so grateful for you.

Love and blessing,
Mike

Carolyn's Corner

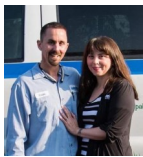

Spring is coming! The sunshine is hanging out more. Soon the birds will be singing and the bees will be buzzing. That means it's time to start getting our landscapes ready for spring. Here are some important early spring tips to get your property off to a great start this season. Be sure to check out our Spring Checklist for more ideas!

-  Rake any matted grass before your first mow. These matted areas can harbor insects and disease while not being regularly mowed.
-  Mow the lawn very short on your first cutting of the season.
-  If you still have debris around your trees and shrubs from last fall, pick it up!
-  Hug a puppy, or a baby, or even a cactus. Whatever brings you joy!
-  Stand in the sunshine. Drink some water. Remember, you're a plant too. Take care of you!

Call us if you have any questions! The team is happy to help. We are all excited to be back for another great season.

"When life throws you a rainy day, play in the puddles."

Until next time!
May your day be beautiful and your heart be filled with joy. God Bless you and yours.
